

ARCHOS Continues Redefining the Tablet with Gen 11

Designed for speed, high performance, multimedia and productivity, this Google™ certified 10.1" tablet offers a complete user experience

London, UK – November 5, 2013 - ARCHOS, a pioneer in Android™ devices, announces the availability of the ARCHOS 101 XS 2 tablet, the latest device from its new Gen11 range. Improving on the success of last year's Gen10, this Google™ Certified tablet includes a Quad-Core 1.6 GHz CPU, 2GB RAM, an HD IPS screen, front facing stereo speakers and dual-cameras. Smartly designed, this feature rich and high performance tablet also includes the innovative Coverboard (introduced in the Gen10 range), a unique magnetic keyboard made to improve content creation.

For Speed

Powered by a super-fast 1.6 GHz Quad-core processor and 2 gigabytes of RAM, users will experience smooth and fast web browsing and apps. The ARCHOS 101 XS 2 includes the next generation of WiFi for mobile devices; Dual-Band WiFi is able to use both the 5GHz and 2.4GHz bands making for a more stable, less congested connection for faster download and browsing speeds. The ARCHOS 101 XS2 also includes Bluetooth and GPS technology.

For Productivity

The magnetic Coverboard is the perfect tool for typing on a tablet

ARCHOS 101 XS 2 comes with the ultra-thin magnetic Coverboard in every box. The touch and feel of a comfortable chicklet keyboard to type easily. Free up screen space on ARCHOS 101 XS 2 and work faster with Android™ shortcuts for direct access to the main functions.

The Triple function of the Coverboard provided with every 101XS2 takes it further than just a keyboard, it is an integrated protective cover for your tablet screen, includes a Kickstand for easier movie watching and serves as a charging dock for the tablet.

The ARCHOS 101 XS 2 also comes pre-installed with OfficeSuite Pro 6, the critically acclaimed application for viewing or creating Word, Excel, PowerPoint and PDF files.

For Multimedia

Vibrant screen & amazing audio experience

The ARCHOS 101 XS 2 is equipped with an impressive 10.1" IPS screen, perfect for videos. The 1280 x 800 pixel widescreen resolution provides vivid, sharp images and extra wide viewing angles for an excellent viewing experience. Thanks to its front-facing stereo speakers, the ARCHOS 101 XS 2 brings you a truly immersive experience for movies, music and games.

ARCHOS Media Centre Apps

The ARCHOS Media Centre applications include the most complete audio and video codec and format support around. Using over 12 years of mobile video and audio experience, these apps play pretty much anything including true 1080p HD video.

The ARCHOS Media Centre includes a special video carousel for easily organising and finding movie and TV show information by title, series, actor and more as well as wireless sharing tools so you can have your media where you want it easily.

Powered by Android™ 4.2 “Jelly Bean” with full Access to Google Play™ Store certified by Google™, the ARCHOS 101 XS 2 includes full access to the Google Play™ Store, with more than 1 million Android™ apps and games, as well as DRM support for downloading books, music and movies.

The ARCHOS 101 XS2 (tablet with coverboard included) will be available in the UK starting in December for £249.99 at www.ARCHOS.com.
