

ARCHOS 7 HOME TABLET IN RETAIL AT £129.99 FIRST LARGE SCREEN ANDROID-BASED TABLET FOR ALL THE FAMILY

The ARCHOS 7 home tablet is the new home device to enjoy all your multimedia (music, photos or video), access to Internet and daily information (news, cinema, sports...), chat with friends, connect to your social networking, or download a selection of new applications from the AppsLib store icon.

ARCHOS a top innovator in the portable media market today announces pre-order availability of the new ARCHOS 7 home tablet, from £129.99 through selected retailers.

The ARCHOS 7 home tablet sees the debut of the first large-screen Android-based tablet. Bridging the gap between the smartphone and the desktop PC, the ARCHOS 7 home tablet provides always-on access to the web, audio and video playback and a dedicated library of lifestyle orientated Android Apps through the AppsLib store, enabling users to customise the device to their lifestyle.

This new device testifies to ARCHOS' strategy of offering innovative electronic products with extremely competitive pricing - in this case the first large-screen Android device series at an affordable price, starting from £129.99.

The stylish ARCHOS 7 home tablet, sports a high resolution 7inch touch screen (800x480) and a super slim form factor at just 12mm thick. Weighing in at 350g (0.8lb), it is extremely portable and can be used in any room of the home. Built-in Wi-Fi allows connection to a home network, while the integrated USB connection makes transferring files from a PC, digital camera or other digital device very simple. It is also a low-power consumption device providing seven hours of video playback or 44 hours of music on a single charge.

Multimedia showcase

With a large, high resolution screen (800x480), the ARCHOS 7 home tablet has been specifically developed with multimedia in mind. The home tablet can be used as a high-quality photo display and sharing tool, while the video player software provides the best HD movie viewing experience (at 720p) in the kitchen, bedroom, living room or garden. An on-board MP3 player, access to the free music streaming service – Deezer – and built-in speakers makes the ARCHOS 7 home tablet a very capable replacement for a hi-fi or radio.

Apps to meet all lifestyles

The ARCHOS 7 home tablet comes with a selection of pre-installed applications ready for use straight out of the box as well as the option to customise your home tablet by downloading your favourite applications.

AppsLib offers unlimited access to free and paid-for applications developed specifically for the large 7-inch touch screen display of the ARCHOS 7. With a range of apps available to fit any lifestyle, the ARCHOS 7 can become an ebook reader, provide access to cooking recipes, news, weather and games, and provide recommendations on theatres or restaurants.

A selection of pre-installed apps includes:

DEEZER

With approximately 35 web radio stations and a SmartRadio feature, plus access to premium content (upon subscription), Deezer provides the best way to listen to your favourite online playlists.

EBUDDY

Ebuddy is the multi-platform instant messaging application to have when it comes to chatting. You can connect to all your friends from one unique application, no matter what service.

ALDIKO

Download and read thousands of books direct to your Android device with Aldiko, providing the option of browsing through catalogues of eBooks or importing your own ePub files straight to your device.

DAILYPAPER

Select your language and view your preferred daily papers through the touch of the ARCHOS screen with links to the mobile sites of the world's daily newspapers.

CINESHOWTIME

The perfect application for selecting the synopsis and schedule of your selected film, at your local cinema.

Communication and connectivity

With WiFi on board, the ARCHOS 7 home tablet is always connected and available wherever and whenever consumers want it in the home. Its high-resolution, 7-inch touch screen, allows consumers to surf the Web, send email, tweets or update Facebook pages as if they were surfing on their home PC. With downloadable personal applications from Appslib, the ARCHOS 7 home tablet is the new screen tablet for the family.
