

ARCHOS Unveils ArcBook, the Affordable Mobile Productivity Enhancer

Google™ Certified ArcBook with a 10.1" touchscreen and full-fledged keyboard designed for students and mobile professionals available in June for £139.99

London – May 12, 2014 – ARCHOS, a pioneer in Android™ devices, unveils the ARCHOS ArcBook, the first Android netbook with touchscreen designed with productivity and value in mind. The ARCHOS ArcBook offers students and mobile professionals the convenience of a keyboard and trackpad and the superb user-experience and mobility of an Android tablet at a budget-friendly price.

Productivity-focused software

Starting at £139.99, the ARCHOS ArcBook is the ultimate value-packed, on-the-go productivity machine running Android 4.2 Jelly Bean. It is preinstalled with Office suite Pro 6, making creating and editing Word, Excel, PowerPoint and PDF files easy.

It allows access to all Google services, including the Google Play application store, Google Chrome web browser and other Google Apps such as YouTube, Gmail, Translate and more. It also comes with 15 GB of free Google Drive cloud storage, enough to store a plethora of documents.

Feature-rich hardware

The ARCHOS ArcBook has a 10.1-inch touchscreen with a full keyboard and integrated Android shortcuts keys to maximise typing speed. Connectivity and expandability have been boosted thanks to a full USB host port and it has enough battery power for more than 10 hours of continuous use.

"ARCHOS ArcBook combines a consumer-friendly tablet experience with the productivity of a netbook" says Loïc Poirier, CEO of ARCHOS. "The ARCHOS ArcBook furthers our commitment to providing feature-rich, consumer-friendly technology at an affordable price."
