"With a turnover of 57.5 million Euros in the fourth quarter of 2013, up 16% compared to the fourth quarter 2012, ARCHOS proves its return to strong growth and now offers a balanced portfolio of diverse products" confirms Loic Poirier, CEO of Archos.

The company also attributes part of this progression to the successful launch of its Smartphone range

With a strategy based on three high-growth groups; Tablets, Smartphones and Connected Objects, the company is deploying its 2014 plan in order to:

1. Increase its presence and strengthen brand exposure with innovative and cutting edge products

The launch at CES of Archos' 4G Smartphone line, new Tablets and Connected Objects allows Archos to open new distributors and enter more territories.

2. Accelerate innovation around Connected Objects
Archos provides a unique solution in the Connected Objects category with a unified ecosystem of objects linked to home, health and sports along with their applications.

3. Sustain substantial growth whilst maintaining high-end positioning

Though positioned in highly competitive markets, the company was able to significantly improve the quality of its products while remaining competitive. This facilitates a gradual improvement of positioning towards high end in all of its lines of business.

Perspectives

The company expects a steady growth in 2014, benefiting from:

- The ecosystem around the three high-growth groups: Tablets, Smartphones and Connected Objects.
- The development of its enterprise, industry and defense businesses with LOGIC INSTRUMENT.

As announced in the press release dated December 13 2013, the general meeting of LOGIC INSTRUMENT shareholders authorized, on the 23 January 2014, a capital increase of € 3 564 000, to which Archos SA and a number of its managers participated. Following this increase in capital, all together ATH, ARCHOS SA, and its CEO holds 39.9% of the capital of LOGIC INSTRUMENT, the other managers holding 8.9% (on a non-diluted basis).

The 2013 results will be published March 14, 2014 after trading ends.

Archos welcomes customers to its stand at the MWC show in Barcelona from February 24 to 27 2014 (Hall 1, booth 1F20).
